PROFILE

Vincent, or Vinnie as he is known around the office, has been involved in the insurance industry since he was in law school, where he clerked with a firm representing home and business owners in first-party property damage disputes. He remained there after graduation where he developed extensive litigation experience in both state and federal jurisdictions. In connection with his policy holder representation, he developed considerable experience litigating bad faith claims in both Pennsylvania and New Jersey. He then moved on to specialize in insurance coverage matters nationwide, including multimillion and billion-dollar construction defect claims.
